

rsc is hiring!

Position: Commercial Construction Project Manager

rsc is one of the most progressive general contractors in the Atlantic Provinces, and we're recruiting for a Project Manager for upcoming projects throughout Nova Scotia.

To be considered for the Project Manager role, you must be an effective communicator with excellent knowledge of commercial construction. The Project Manager provides leadership to the labour-force to ensure timely completion of all activities and deliverables during the various stages of multi-discipline projects. The Project Manager is responsible for planning, organizing, directing, controlling and evaluating construction projects of varying complexity according to schedule, specifications and budget. Candidates should have strong negotiation, evaluation and organizational skills, combined with proficiency with Microsoft Office applications. Familiarity with Jonas Management software would be helpful. The ideal candidate will possess an equivalent combination of construction management training and experience.

We're looking for PM's for our Bedford, NS office. If you think you have the right skill set and 'can-do' attitude to work at rsc, please clearly identify your province of choice on your cover letter.

Applicants require a minimum of 3- 5 years' experience on medium to large commercial construction projects.

Gold Seal and/or LEED® certification would be considered assets. Ideally, we'd love to see a combination of medium to large base building experience coupled with some good renos.

The ability to invest the total hours required to deliver projects is a must, as is possible, periodic travel throughout the Atlantic Provinces.

Our total compensation package includes a competitive salary, group health benefits, registered pension plan, discounted gym membership, free massages from an RMT and more.

All candidates will be required to promote and maintain the rsc safety program "Safety First & Always" at all times.
